COUNTY AND CITY BOARD OF EQUALIZATION. The County Board of Equalization was busily engaged yesterday morning in examining the returns of Anderson township. No additions had been made up to the hour of closing our reports.

The session of the City Board, yesterday morning, was a busy one. It was crowded with those who had received citations that their personal returns had been increased. This class was on hand at an early hour, explaining the why and wherefore they should not be increased. As the session will soon expire, the Board have concluded to hold afternoon meetings on account of the accumulation of business.

THE U. S. COURTS .- In the U. S. Circuit Court, Tuesday, the following cases were called, in each of which a nolle prosequi was entered:

Charles R. Smith, embezzling the public funds while Secretary of Minnesota. Wm. Beatty, of Hamilton, for resisting a process of Court. Sarah Phelps, for robbing the mail. The case of Adam Orebaugh, indicted for robbing the mail, is set down for trial to-day -that of Charles Mason, for counterfeiting, on Monday next, and that of Wm. Shope, same offence, for Tuesday next.

In the District Court, Reuben Johnston the negro who is charged with resisting the U. S. Marshal, in the rescue slave case, was allowed to withdraw his plea of guilty and to enter a plea of not guilty. The trial was set for Mond y of next week.

A HUNDRED YRABS Ago, -A great many events occur in a hundred years. Within that time America has leaped forth into the astonishing power it is. One hundred years ago, says an exchange, there was not a single white man in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois Territories. What is now the most flourishing part of America was as little known as the country around the mountains of the moon. It was not until 1769 that the "Hunter of Kentucky," the gallant and adventur-ous Boone, left his home in North Carolina to become the first settler in Kentucky. The first pioneer of Ohio did not settle until twenare pioneer of Onio did not settle until twen-ty years after this time. A hundred years ago, Canada belonged to France, the whole population of the United States did not ex-ceed a million and a half of people. A hun-dred years ago the great Frederick of Prus-sia was performing those great exploits which have made him immortal in military annals, and with his little mortal. and with his little monarchy was austaining a single-handed contest with Russia, Austria and France—the three great Powers of Eu-rope combined. A hundred years ago Napo-leon was not born, and Washington was a young and modest Virginia Colonel, and the great events in the history of the two worlds, great events in the history of the two worlds, in which these two great but dissimilar men took leading parts, were then scarcely fore-shadowed. A hundred years ago, the United States were the most loyal part of the British Empire, and on the political horizon no speck indicated the struggle which, within a score of years thereafter, established the greatest Republic in the world. A hundred years ago there were but four newspapers in America. Bergamo on the Sth, and having learned that 1500 Austrians were coming from Brescia, zent a detachment to meet them, and though the force sent was inconsiderable in number, they, there were but four newspapers in America; steam engines had not been imagined, and railways and telegraphs and telegrams had not entered into the remotest conception of man. When we come to look back at it through the rists of history, we find that to the control. bulletin says:

"Gen. D'Urban at Canonica, and the other corps d'armee at Magenta were engaged in sanguinary fights. The enemy, in greatly superior force, appears to be advancing from Milan, and the Austrian army has therefore passed the Adda in good order, and is nearing the reinforcements in reserve. The courage of our troops is unbroken, and they are longing vista of history, we find that to the century which has passed have been allotted more important events in their bearing upon the hap-piness of the world than almost any other which has elapsed since the creation. A hun-dred years hence, what will be the development? It is past finding out, except one thing, a thought which astonished Xerxes when he stood upon Mount Athos-all, with but few exceptions, now living, will be dead!

FEATS OF A FUGITIVE LIQUOR DEALER.— We are indebted to Sheriff T. J. Potter, of Woburn, for the following particulars of a series of extraordinary attempts to evade pun-ishment for violation of the Liquor Law. Some time last October, two complaints were entered against one Thomas McGovern of Tewkesbury, for selling liquor contrary to the statue, and Sheriff Potter went to Towkes-bury to serve the warrants. Arriving at McGovern's house about 10 o'clock at night he stationed a man at the back door, and himhe stationed a man at the back door, and himself knocked at the front. McGovern, who suspected the character of his guest, and the nature of his visit, as soon as he heard the rapping, jumped out of a side window, and with no clothing on but his shirt and drawers, ran for the woods, where he managed to conceal himself until the coast was clear.

In December, Sheriff Potter, with a large posse again went to Tewkesbury. This time it was arranged that as soon as their horses reached the yard they were to surround the house and the yard they were to surround the house and they were to surround the house and preventanescape. They were not soon enough, however, for hardly had they got to the yard before Tom jumped out of the window and ran. before Tom jumped out or the window and rain.

The thermometer was thirteen degrees above zero, and there was about six inches of snow on the ground, slightly crusted. He had nothing on but his shirt, in which garment he ran through the woods for a mile, and then took the road, which was full of frozen hubbles. He was out in this condition one hour, his pursuers failing to overtake him. The next morning he went to New Hampshire, where he JAMES NEWMAN, charged with robbing Wil- remained till last week. Potter hearing of his return, went again to Tewkesbury, and not finding him at theme concealed himself in the woods by the house to await his return. He also sent a man into the house to assist, if necessary. On the appearance of McGovern he was arrested, ironed, and brought to Woburn, when he was sentenced on each complaint to pay a fine of $10 and serve thirty days in the House of Correction.

McGovern's legs are badly scarred from the run last winter; at that time he run a splinter into his leg at the ankle, which came out just below the knee.—Boston Journal.

WESTERN UNITARIAN CONFERENCE. - The Conference of Western Unitarian Churches held its final meeting at Milwaukie on Satur day, when the discussions were brought to a Dr. Hosmer, of Buffalo, was President for the coming year, and Rev. The religious meetings held on Sunday were most deeply interesting. Dr. Hosmer preached in the morning on the subject of "Character;" Mr. Mayo, in the afternoon, on the "Liberal Preacher;" after which a most carnest welcome was given by the President to Robert Collyer, of Chicago, minister at large, on his first fellowship with this conference and his union with the Unitarian churches.

In the evening the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was given to a large number in the church. The delegates separated, full of carnest sympathy for their common bond of brotherhood - The Fatherhood of God -- Chicago

It was Jeremy Taylor who said: "If you are for pleasure, marry; if you prize rosy health, marry. A good wife is Heaven's last best gift to man; his angel of many ministers, of graces innumerable; his gem of many virtues; his casket of jewels; her voice, his sweetest music: her smiles, his brightest day; her arms, the pale of his safety, the balm of his health, and the balsam of his life; her industry, his surest wealth; her economy. his safest steward; her wealth; her economy, his safest steward; her lips, his faithful counsellors; her bosom the softest pillow of his cares; and her prayers, the ablest advocate of Heaven's blessings on his head." Yes; had been all over it, going by rail from Portland to Boston." When in Ireland, Dr. McClintock said that many of the Irish could not believe he was an American born; first, because of his "dacint skin," and then they said "bless me sow!! why he talks a'most as well as one of us." Major Gregory said a Welshman told him a story of a man who "lived just back of New York, in New York city, have at last decided that the Protestant Bible is henceforth to be read in the common schools, despite the objections of cer-tain Catholics and others.
